

Call for Papers

Professor Braj B. Kachru passed away on July 29, 2016, in Urbana, Illinois. The International Association for World Englishes will celebrate his life and work in a symposium at the IAWE 2017 Meeting at Syracuse University in Syracuse, NY, June 30 – July 2, 2017. Authors are invited to contribute abstracts for papers concerning Braj Kachru's life and work, with special attention to his research and its impact on the study of world Englishes, applied linguistics, multilingualism, sociolinguistics, and linguistics more generally. Papers will be of 15 minutes' length.

Please send abstracts of 100-200 words to:

Daniel R. Davis

davisdr@umich.edu

Subject: Kachru Symposium Abstract

Abstracts will be reviewed by the symposium planning committee. Presenters will need to be members of IAWE, and to register for the IAWE 2017 Meeting at Syracuse.

Deadline for submission of abstracts: March 19, 2017.

Sincerely,

Rajeshwari Pandharipande
Planning Committee Chair
Braj B. Kachru Symposium

Tej Bhatia
Vice-President &
President Elect, IAWE
Conference Organizer
IAWE 2017 Syracuse

Daniel R. Davis
Executive Director, IAWE
Co-Editor, World Englishes